AGHAMTAO is the official publication of the Ugnayang Pang-Aghamtao, Inc. (UGAT), the Anthropological Association of the Philippines. Beginning with its maiden issue in 1978 devoted to a stocktaking of Anthropology in the Philippines, AGHAMTAO continues to provide a forum for the “scholarship and practice of anthropology” in the Philippines. AGHAMTAO features papers read in annual conferences as well as reports from special events organized by UGAT. AGHAMTAO comes out as a regular issue in October. All submissions are screened by the Editorial Board, and undergo a double-blind review process.

Issues of AGHAMTAO are available at the Central Subscription Service of the Philippine Social Science Center (PSSC).

Instructions for authors/contributors: Each article should be accompanied by an abstract of not more than 250 words. The minimum length for article submissions is 3,000 words. Please list up to 5 keywords, alphabetically arranged. For referencing style please consult previous issues of AGHAMTAO (volumes 16-18).

The Editors assume no liability or responsibility for the personal views or opinions expressed by the authors.

Inquiries and communications should be addressed to the Head of the Publications Committee or to the Executive Director of UGAT:
